OAKLAND ELKS WILL VISIT IN HONOLULU

14,000-ton steamer Matsonia, now being completed for the Matson Navigation Company, will be chartered.

The letter received by the promotion committee this morning is to the effect that the cruise will leave San Francisco February 12, which will bring them to Honolulu just in time to take in the Floral Parade and Mid-Winter Carnival. The tourist company requests the promotion committee to forward them at once 200 pieces of literature descriptive of Honolulu and the islands, this to be distributed among all interested in the special cruise. Time tables concerning island travel has especially been asked for by the bureau.

"It is our desire to increase travel to Honolulu," writes General Manager Kins, "and Philip C. Hall, secretary of the company, is a native of the islands and knows the possibilities of such travel."

Pittsie's long suit is walking and, wherever possible, he makes the trip on foot. Thus far, in his newspaper activities, he has footed it upwards of 90,000 miles and says he is just getting in good condition to walk a little.

That his claims are correct is authenticated by the scrap books he carries, bearing the signatures of celebrities in every corner of the civilized globe. His latest acquisitions are the signatures of a host of Californians, including the governor of the state, mayor of San Francisco and a large number of state officials and business men.

Provided he rounds the circle in five years, a distance of 75,000 miles as he travels, the merchants of Edmonton will present him with $30,000, which he says will follow the previous $25,000 and be invested in real estate in Edmonton.

He is proud of the fact that he left San Francisco broke and landed in Honolulu with a little rattle of coin, thanks to the kindness of the officers of the Honolulu, who placed him in the way of picking up a little change. Pittsie says he likes this city and thinks the Star-Bulletin will prove a fine medium of adding to his little store of silver, and as a consequence will stay here for about 30 days. ## IMMIGRATION PLOT EXISTS IN HONOLULU entirely of Chinese who have returned to their country as alien citizens, and have the unlimited right to re-establish their residence here. The plan, as it is alleged, is to sell the names appearing on this list to Celestians and thus allow them to use the names in entering this country, coming here under the guise of reuniting aliens.

Whether the two delegates from China have been successful in their efforts to obtain the list and are now on their way to China ready to begin the fraudulent immigration campaign cannot be definitely learned, and the statements of Chinamen who have been approached by the alleged schemers are at disagreement on the point. While one believes they have secured the list, another says they are still seeking to get it and are increasing their fee.

John W. Akana, one of the men approached, says he does not know how the matter stands at this time. He affirms that the delegates came to him some time ago offering to retain his services in compiling the list. On examination, he says, he found that there were more than 30,000 Chinese who have returned to their country from here since 1880, and he thereupon informed the men that it would be impossible for him to compile the list within the short time desired. He also intimated to them, he states, that they were going to put it to an unlawful use.

"The Chinamen did not come to me again after that," he declared this morning. "They probably suspected that I would disclose their plan to the officials. I understand that they began negotiations with other persons, but with what success I cannot say."

"There seems to me no doubt but that they plan to use the list to evade the immigration law. I do not know their names or where they came from. But I am of the opinion that they represent a moneyed hul. Because of the disturbances in China there are undoubtedly a large number of Chinamen who would give a big sum to get out of their country and live in the United States. So they would have little trouble selling the list if once in their possession."

Other Chinamen expressed themselves in a similar tone. They all professed to be ignorant of the names of the schemers, their whereabouts or whence they came. But they are in agreement in the matter of the planned use of the list. The federal immigration officials stated this morning that their attention had not been called to the scheme of the Chinamen.

PROOF-FIRING WRECKS THE HOSPITAL

The recently completed battery at Fort De Russy was proof fired yesterday afternoon, the department commander and a few staff officers noting with anxious interest the test which determined the success of the test of each of the two guns, everything going off according to calculations, and without accident or incident.

The only damage done by the concussion was to the post hospital, where dozens of bottles came rattling and crashing to the floor, making an indescribable mess of broken bottles and spilled chemicals.

The guns were sighted for 6000 yards, and fired one at a time, first with a three-quarter charge, and then with the full service charge behind the cast iron projectile. The field of fire was absolutely clear of any obstruction, and there was little or no delay in firing, as soon as General Funston put in an appearance. The fall of the projectiles was easily spotted by the splash, a column of water fully 80 feet in height shooting skyward as the shot buried itself in the open sea.

"The guns and carriages are in every way successful," said Captain C. W. Waller, of the ordnance department, who had charge of the proof firing. "The test is all that could be desired."

Those who observed the proof firing included General Funston, Colonel Rafferty, Major Wooten, Major Conklin, Captain J. S. Johnston, Captain Stanton, Lieutenant Ball and Lieutenant Tilton.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The attorney general today recommended to the governor the parole of Kong Sing, who was convicted in Circuit Judge Matthews' court at Hilo on May 4, 1910, of burglary in the second degree and sentenced to not less than three years nor more than ten years imprisonment. The prisoner has served the minimum time and the warden reports his conduct during that time has been exemplary.

The terms of eight liquor license commissioners on the various islands will expire July 1, and the appointments to fill the vacancies or reappointments of the present members doubtless will be made shortly by the governor. The members affected are: for Oahu, Willard E. Brown and Frederick D. Lowrey; for Hawaii, A. B. Lindsay and R. T. Guard; for Maui, C. D. Lufkin and D. C. Lindsay; for Kauai, James K. Apolo and A. F. Knudsen.

JAPANESE SEND CHILDREN HOME TO SCHOOL

Four hundred Hawaiian birth certificates, printing the territory a revenue of $2,000 and which will require to sign his name 2,000 times, have been prepared during the latter's two weeks' vacation on Hawaii and now await his attention.

The signing of these documents alone means two or three days tedious labor for the secretary. Practically all the certificates are taken by Japanese, who desire to send their children, born in these islands, back to Japan for an education. Several hundred Japanese children, it is said, are sent back to the land of the Mikado every year for instruction in the schools of that country.

J. A. GILMAN SEES RUIN IN FREE SUGAR

"If the Underwood tariff bill, reducing the duty on sugar to 1 cent a pound, becomes a law the sugar industry of Hawaii will be practically ruined," says J. A. Gilman, a prominent sugar-grower of Honolulu, who is in Portland on business.

"It is impossible for us to compete with the German sugar growers on an open market," said Mr. Gilman yesterday. "The cost of labor and transportation and the general expenses are much greater with us than our German competitors."

"Since the islands have been annexed to the United States the cost of labor has more than doubled. With the present duty of $33.90 a ton on our raw sugar it costs us about $53 a ton to lay sugar down in New York today. Our average selling price is $30 a ton. This gives us a margin of $23, but out of this we have to pay the cost of selling it and other expenses."

"Now the Underwood bill proposes to cut the duty to 1 cent a pound or $20 a ton. At the end of three years the duty is to be removed altogether. This virtually would confiscate our business. We could not operate under a free sugar system, as the German growers could cut under our price at every turn."

Mr. Gilman points out that 90 per cent of the people in the Hawaiian Islands depend upon the sugar industry, either indirectly or directly, for their livelihood. The pineapple industry is now becoming a competitor of sugar in the number of workmen it employs, but it is comparatively in its infancy.

Hawaii now sends 600,000 tons of cane sugar to the United States annually. The "mainland," as the Hawaiian people refer to the United States proper, produces annually 775,000 tons of cane and beet sugar. The total production of maple sugar and molasses in the mainland is 15,000 tons. Cuba furnished 1,665,000 tons, the Philippines and Porto Rico 340,000 tons and outside sources, including Java and Germany, 105,000 tons. The total sugar consumption in the United States, according to these figures, is 3,500,000 tons annually. The price for the whole world is fixed every day at Hamburg. It is natural, the Hawaiian growers point out, that in the event of a tariff reduction the German growers and dealers will do their utmost to invade this country with their products. Just now Germany finds ready sale for its sugar at home as well as in free-trade England and other European countries.—Portland Oregonian.

J. L. PVORMANN MURDERS MOTHER AND ENDS LIFE

The company will take charge of the bodies and provide for the burials.

The only real property known to have been owned by Pvormann is that upon which his house is located. It was said at Castle & Cooke's this morning that he held no sugar stocks to their knowledge.

News of the deaths did not reach the police until almost 11 o'clock, when Coroner Rose shot out to the home in his machine, a call being sent in by the contractor in charge of the improvement work. It was first understood that Japanese were the victims, and not until Rose arrived at the home was the true nature of the tragedy made known to him.

While he was examining the place a coroner's jury was being made ready and it soon arrived at the scene of the shooting, where they viewed the bodies and were sworn in. The inquest will be held tomorrow at 3 o'clock.

On account of being unable to secure a quorum, the annual meeting of the local chapter of Sons of the American Revolution, which was to have been held in the Young Men's Christian Association at a quarter-past twelve o'clock this afternoon, has been postponed until the afternoon of June 24. A meeting today would have been especially appropriate on account of the fact that it is the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill.

DUKE LAUGHS AT MORNING PIPE-DREAM

"Where are there any professional swimming meets, I'd like to know?" said Rawlins. "Certainly there are not enough for a man to make a very good living out of them. I know though, that some persons here have tried to get hold of Duke to make a few dollars out of managing him for a while, but they haven't been mainly enough to come out in the open with their propositions. As to going on the stage, Duke isn't just cut out for an actor. There is nothing to that story."

"I'd like to meet the guy that wrote that story about me getting an offer of $1000 a week for 58 weeks to appear on the stage," commented Duke.

"Maybe he can tell me where to find the man that made the offer. I never heard of it before, and I'd kind of like to get such an offer, believe me. Gee! I'd hate to think what I wouldn't do for 58,000 simoleons! That's an awful lot of coin."

"No," Duke said, in answer to a query, "I've not received any theatrical offer of any kind yet. I've never heard a proposition of that kind, until one of the boys told me about that story in the morning paper today."

However, the theatrical offer or the lack of it isn't worrying the champion to any extent. In fact Duke is fortunate in the possession of a temperament that refuses to be afflicted by worry on any count.

He now has two swimming ambitions—one, to cut down the existing world's records in the short distances at the San Francisco meet to a point where they are likely to stand unchallenged for many years to come; the other is to do something worthy of note in the long-distance events.

After the San Francisco contest he expects to go to Long Beach, and says he wants to see what he can do in a race scheduled for that place over a three-quarter-of-a-mile course, in the open salt water.

Reminded that the water probably will be pretty rough there for record-amazing, Duke said:

"I don't mind that. I like the rough water and somehow I feel more at home in it than in the still water. I've never tried for a record in rough water and I'd like to make the attempt, just to see what I can do."

Duke yesterday picked out his special surfing board from among the lot at Waikiki and will take it to Long Beach, where his performances in the surf should prove an enormous attraction to the Californians.

Duke also has an ambition to visit the beach resorts of Florida with his beloved surfing-board, but he doubtless will have to forego that pleasure a few months, as few people visit the Florida coast in the baking hot summer months and the big hotels are virtually closed until late in the fall.

SECRETARY WOOD GETS BUSY ON MAINLAND

H. P. Wood, secretary of the local promotion committee and chairman of the Hawaii Fair Commission, arrived in San Francisco June 6 and has already held a number of conferences with the exposition officials with regard to the final arrangements for the participation of the islands in the 1915 event.

In connection with Secretary Wood's visit to the coast as representative of Hawaii, the San Francisco Chronicle of June 7 carries the following story:

Hawaii has reduced its original appropriation for its exhibit, but at least $150,000 will be spent by the territory, according to Wood, who declares that the showing of the islands will be a comprehensive and valuable one and form one of the most interesting attractions of the exposition.

"We have already selected our site," said Wood, "and are now completing plans for the exhibit. All of Hawaii's resources will be represented and it is planned to make the attraction an unique one. A feature will be a replica of the famous volcano of Kilauea. In addition to exhibits of the various products and resources of the islands there will be a lecture-room where moving pictures, showing island scenes, will be on display."

"The famous colored fish of island waters will be quartered in an aquarium similar to the one at Honolulu which is known the world over. The fish will be brought over in specially constructed tanks and should form an unusual attraction."

After completing his conference with the exposition officials here Wood will visit the East and will also tour Canada for the purpose of spreading promotion propaganda concerning the Hawaiian Islands.

Of the six deaths from contagious disease in Honolulu during the first half of the present month, four were due to tuberculosis and two to typhoid fever, according to the semi-monthly report of Registrar M. H. Lemon, of the territorial board of health.

The commission for the Hawaiian Fair, which was authorized by the last legislature and for which $25,000 was appropriated, probably will be appointed by Governor Frear's successor. The chief executive said today he did not think there need be any particular hurry in naming the commission, and as most of its activity and its

MURDERERS WILL HANG JULY 8

The three confessed murderers of the Chinese couple at Kahauiki will pay the penalty for the crime on July 8. At an hour which will be set later by the high sheriff, the three Filipinos will be hanged in the courtyard of Oahu prison.

The date for the execution was fixed yesterday afternoon by the governor, after a conference with the high sheriff, and Attorney General Thayer today is formulating the death warrant, which the chief executive is to sign. A separate warrant is to be drawn for each man, though all three will be similar save for the name of the sole auditor who will listen to its reading on the fateful day.

The $15,000 voted by the California legislature to send Civil War veterans to the Gettysburg reunion was illegally appropriated, according to a court decision and cannot be used. The veterans must stay home.

Corrugated

Ingot-Iron --- Galvanized

This corrugated galvanized iron, rolled into sheets for roofing purposes, should not be confused with the ordinary galvanized steel which appears on so many roofs and which rusts so easily.

Ingot-iron, galvanized, is made after the old English method, and, while the roof will naturally cost more for its placing, there will be little expense for many years to combat oxidation.

Contractors who know, and home-owners who ought to know, will be very satisfied with the performance of these roofing sheets of ingot-iron—galvanized.

"Buy that roofing that longest defies rust."
